SUBJECT: Interim Guidance on Meetings with Liberation Groups

1. Pending further evolution of African Portuguese dialogue, do not rpt not believe we should seek to change basic thrust of PADM 52 guidance concerning contacts with Liberation groups. Question is under current study. However, in view our desire to (A) know more about Frelimo's activities, intentions and future roles, and (B) demonstrate we are not less willing than Portuguese themselves to see and talk with responsible Frelimo leaders no rpt no objection perceived to your receiving Frelimo leaders should they request meeting or to your participation in conversation with them should they be present at official reception or other functions.

2. Wish emphasize that at least during this interim period initiative with respect to any contact at higher level than that permitted by PADM 52 (other than casual meetings at receptions, etc.) should come from other side since we wish avoid conferring undue stature on group or faction in question; antagonizing Portuguese or involving ourselves in any their negotiations with African groups; or appearing to indicate U.S. is moving at this time into substantive role vis-a-vis Liberation groups.

3. You should of course see Foreign Minister Soares or other Portuguese rep of appropriate rank should they seek meeting with you. You should at such time inform Soares of your instructions para one. Should you deem it appropriate you should inquire discreetly of Soares what the Portuguese reaction would be if you were to take initiative in contacting Frelimo leadership. Report his reactions and your assessment in light thereof of advisability your initiating contact with Frelimo leadership.

4. Info posts should adhere for present to existing guidance in PADM 52 with respect to Frelimo and other Liberation groups. If circumstances considered exceptional refer to the Department for guidance.

5. For LISBON - You requested inform GOP substance paras one and two.

MEMORANDUM FOR HENRY KISSINGER

FROM: Fernando Rondon FR

SUBJECT: Closure of Rhodesian-Zambian Border; Zambia Requests American Assistance

I call this subject to your attention because President Kaunda of Zambia, a leader who has been very critical of our Vietnam policy, has asked for American political and economic help as a result of the closure of the Zambian-Rhodesian border.

In addition, our Embassy in Lusaka believes that Zambia may call for an emergency Security Council meeting.

Background

In mid-December, after three years of quiet, a flurry of guerrilla activity broke out in Rhodesia. Since then, there have been a series of land mine incidents as well as attacks on isolated white farms. A number of Rhodesians have been killed. As a result, on January 9, Prime Minister Smith of Rhodesia announced the partial closure of the border with Zambia, from where the guerrillas infiltrated. But Smith exempted Zambian copper which is exported from land-locked Zambia by Rhodesian Railways because such shipments earn five percent of Rhodesia's much needed foreign exchange.

President Kaunda, however, vowed that he would not cease to support Rhodesia's "freedom fighters" and ordered the re-routing of copper exports, the source of nearly all of Zambia's foreign exchange. Kaunda apparently felt that Zambia was in a better financial position than Rhodesia to withstand the border closure. However, CIA thinks that Kaunda may have over-estimated Zambia's ability to ship via congested ports and facilities in Tanzania and the Portuguese territories.

Both Portuguese and South African officials appear amazed at Ian Smith's closure of his border with Zambia and neither seems to be supporting what they consider to be Rhodesia's over-reaction to the guerrilla activity. Portugal is ready to have Zambian goods exported via its territories and South Africa apparently has no intention of interrupting its air links with Zambia.

Zambia Requests American Help

On January 11, the Zambian Foreign Minister called in our Ambassador and asked the United States for political support in persuading Rhodesia to change its course. State has already replied that it does not feel that the United States has any leverage which could be exerted on the Rhodesians. The Foreign Minister also said that Zambia may need economic assistance. The Zambian request came one day after President Kaunda had condemned our bombing of North Vietnam and wept for 10 minutes before his Parliament (reference at Tab A).

Comment

Land-locked Zambia may well need foreign help if its border with Rhodesia remains closed for very long. We could be asked for emergency foodstuffs, for example. In view of Kaunda's criticism of our Vietnam policy, however, I have informed the African Bureau of State that the NSC wishes to be informed before any such help is given by the United States to Zambia.

I will keep you informed of both the Rhodesian-Zambian border situation and of any specific Zambian requests for American help.

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. HENRY A. KISSINGER
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Zambian Requests for Assistance

Reacting to the recent closure of the Rhodesian-Zambian frontier by Rhodesia, Zambia has made a political decision that it will not again risk disruption of its vital copper exports or its equally important import requirements by shipping its goods via Rhodesia. Zambia has asked the United States, among others, for assistance in providing the expanded transportation capacity (primarily trucks) required to implement this decision.

The Department believes that it is important to respond positively to this request despite some political differences we have had with Zambia during the past few years. President Kaunda recently sent President Nixon a warm message congratulating him on the achievement of peace in Vietnam. Foreign Minister Mudenda also has gone out of his way to commend the United States on the peace in Vietnam. In addition, immediately after the recent United Nations Security Council votes on two resolutions addressing the current tension between Zambia and Rhodesia, the Foreign Minister in a public statement praised the position taken by the United States during Security Council consideration of the matter--even though we had abstained on one of the resolutions.

Zambia has important ties with the United States. U.S. mining company investments in Zambia amount to more than $100 million. Zambia has been a modest but growing market for U.S. exports. At the present time a number of U.S. firms are engaged in negotiations which are directly related to the increased Zambian transportation requirements arising from the Rhodesian border closure. Paccar International has requested $18 million in Export-Import Bank loans and guarantees for the sale of 750 Kenworth trucks. TAW International has proposed a full service leasing contract involving 400 General Motors trucks at a total cost of $24 million. (Reportedly the Zambian Government is very interested in the TAW proposal but has some problem with the financing terms.) A transport company owned by the Tanzanian Government is seeking to expand its truck fleet by 90 to 250 trucks to handle increased traffic to and from Zambia and has requested the Export-Import Bank to grant a preliminary commitment of $3.75 million to finance an initial tranche of 90 International Harvester trucks and 90 Fruhauf trailers.

GDS--DECLAS Dec. 31, 1976

While the Export-Import Bank is sympathetic to these requests, it seems clear that the Zambian Government would be more likely to favor U.S. suppliers of the equipment it seeks if, within the limits of our means, we are able to be partially responsive to the Zambian assistance requests. Therefore, with the concurrence of the Secretary, AID has been asked to consider provision to Zambia of a program loan for the transportation sector of up to $5 million from available FY-73 funds. AID, which does not currently provide assistance to Zambia, is now reviewing available economic data while awaiting completion of the UN experts' recommendations and issuance of reports of recent IBRD and IMF missions to Zambia. Any such AID loan as might be developed would of course require interagency clearance and congressional notification.

The Department believes that an AID concessional loan would help to pave the way for commercial equipment sales potentially much in excess of the amount of assistance proposed. In addition, long term sales of spare parts and replacement equipment are likely to be stimulated by such assistance.

While it can be argued that the current phase of the Zambian-Rhodesian crisis is at least partially of Zambia's making, it is logical that Zambia should seek to reduce its dependence on transport through Rhodesia with all its uncertainties. We have already supported alternatives in principle in our help for the Tanzam and Botzam roads. Our further help would have important symbolism throughout Africa in our posture on southern African problems.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. HENRY A. KISSINGER
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Zambian President Kaunda Helps Us with Departure of Soviet Asylum Applicant

Upon learning of our Embassy's request to the Zambian Foreign Ministry for assistance in arranging the departure from Zambia of a Soviet teacher who had asked a U.S. Embassy officer for asylum in the United States, President Kenneth Kaunda reacted promptly and effectively. He called in an Embassy officer and spoke lengthily on the tragedy of Czechoslovakia. Kaunda then said that despite Zambia's friendly relations with the USSR, he wished to help the Soviet teacher, Vadim N. Tronchinsky.

Kaunda instructed subordinates to arrange transportation for Tronchinsky via chartered aircraft to Nairobi and commercial aircraft between Nairobi and Rome. He also ordered issuance of a Zambian passport to Tronchinsky for use as far as Rome and that two employees of the Zambian security services escort him to Rome. Kaunda asked that we arrange for his resettlement in a third country or in the United States and that we take responsibility for him after he arrives in Rome. We agreed to do so. Tronchinsky is due to arrive in New York on the afternoon of August 11 where we understand that the Immigration and Naturalization Service will grant him conditional entry. The International Rescue Committee has agreed to assume responsibility for Tronchinsky upon arrival. The Zambians have told our Embassy that they will deny any role in the evacuation operation and Tronchinsky has been cautioned not to reveal how he departed from Zambia.

MEMORANDUM

WASHINGTON

ACTION

August 25, 1971

MEMORANDUM FOR: GENERAL HAIG

FROM: WINSTON LORD

SUBJECT: President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia

Chapin's note at Tab B asked whether we should postpone Kaunda's November 16 visit to the President to later in the month in view of the mid-November congruence of events. He does recall the problems we had last year in cancelling Kaunda's appointment.

I have talked to Marshall Wright to get a status report and his views. He reports that, due to a coincidence of factors, the actual November 16 date has not yet been officially given to the Zambians. (These factors include the fact that they temporarily do not have an Ambassador in Washington, their Foreign Minister is ill, our Ambassador has not been able to get an appointment with Kaunda yet, etc.) However, our Ambassador should be given a date in the next day or two and informal word may already have reached the Zambians. Kaunda plans to be in the U.S. from November 16-18, and we could conceivably shift the visit by a day or two if we act quickly and get word to the Ambassador right away. However, this would not seem to solve Chapin's problem concerning the President's schedule.

On balance, Marshall and I both believe that we should hold firm on the November 16 date with Chapin because:

-- of last year's monumental flap

-- we should preserve an image of non-negotiability about the date with the President's front office.

-- Chapin himself recognizes the problems.

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the memorandum to Chapin at Tab A.

Sent to Chapin 8/27

August 26, 1971

MEMORANDUM FOR: DWIGHT CHAPIN

FROM: AL HAIG

SUBJECT: President Kaunda Visit

We have examined the possibility of delaying Kaunda's visit per your August 24 memorandum. On balance, because of last year's flap, we believe that we should hold firm with this date despite the problems you cite. Because Kaunda plans to be in the United States only a couple of days in mid-November, it would be particularly awkward to move this toward the end of the month. While we might try out a delay of one or two days, it does not seem that this would solve your scheduling problems, and in any event this would still be awkward in light of our past experience on this subject.

SUBJECT: President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia

As you are aware, the President of Zambia is scheduled to see the President on November 16. Is there any possibility of moving Kaunda (if we wanted to) to later in the month. We may want to consider doing this in light of the statement by the President that he would have a troop announcement on November 15, plus we have the November 14 end of the economic freeze. I am just trying to anticipate that the sixteenth may be a very bad day for this visit.

On the other hand, I recall the problems we had last year in cancelling Kaunda and that this may be a very ticklish situation.

Can I please have your advice?

You were asked why we had suggested any of three days (November 16, 17 or 18) for a Presidential appointment for Zambian President Kaunda.

Kaunda is scheduled fo: deliver the Martin Luther King lecture at the Wesley Theological Seminary here in Washington on November 17. This date is flexible, however, and can be adjusted within the three day period, depending on the time chosen for an appointment with the President. Kaunda is also scheduled to address a Press Club luncheon during his stay in Washington, the exact time again depending on his appointment with the President.

In other words, Kaunda is willing to adjust his other aditivities around his appointment with the President and we have given Dwight Chapin the maximum latitude in scheduling. Because of the blow-up last fall over the Kaunda appointment, it is important that there be no slip this time.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. HENRY A. KISSINGER
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Possible Visit of Zambian President Kaunda

On the basis of Memorandum NSC-27333 of April 25 we suggested to Zambian Ambassador Mutemba, as he was leaving for consultation in Lusaka, that he inform President Kaunda that the President had agreed to receive Kaunda if he were to come to the United States on a private visit this year. Subsequently, we learned of the invitation to Kaunda to deliver the Martin Luther King lecture at the Wesley Theological Seminary, as mentioned in my memorandum to you of May 20. The lecture is tentatively scheduled for November 17 at 11:00 a.m., but this date is flexible.

Upon his return from Zambia, Ambassador Mutemba informed the Department that President Kaunda is reluctant to accept the invitation to deliver the King Lecture without first being invited specifically to see President Nixon on such an occasion. Mutemba said that Kaunda does not think it would be appropriate for him to visit our capital city without having an invitation to do so from the President. We reiterated to Mutemba the impossibility of extending an invitation to Kaunda either this year or next for an official visit. According to the Ambassador, Kaunda understands and accepts this fact, but still attaches great importance to seeing the President.

We continue to feel that a meeting between the two presidents would be beneficial to United States-Zambian relations and that a visit by Kaunda to deliver the King Lecture would be a propitious time for such a meeting to take place. Accordingly, we recommend that the attached telegram be sent instructing Ambassador Troxel to inform Kaunda that the President would be happy to see him if he should come to Washington to give the King Lecture.

You will note that the date of a possible presidential meeting has been left blank on the telegram. However, if such a meeting were to be tied to the tentative date of the King Lecture, the afternoon of November 17 as well as November 15, 16, 18 and 19 are all possibilities. If none of these dates is convenient, we would like to contact the Dean of the Wesley Theological Seminary to see whether the date of the lecture can be changed to one more suitable for the President to meet with Kaunda.

MEMORANDUM FOR HENRY A. KISSINGER

FROM: Marshall Wright

SUBJECT: Problem with President Kaunda of Zambia

You will remember our difficulties concerning the aborted meeting between Kaunda and President Nixon last fall, at the time of Kaunda's trip to the UN General Assembly. Since then, things have gotten civil again, and there has been an exchange of warm letters between the two Presidents.

The Zambian Ambassador recently returned from consultations in Lusaka with instructions to explore the possibility of Kaunda's making an official visit to Washington this year. The approach, however, was very delicate, being made on a "personal" and "informal" basis to the State country director.

Attached at Tab A is a membrandum to the President from Secretary Rogers which recommends that the President sign a personal letter to Kaunda saying the visit is not possible this year, might be possible next year although it is too early to know, and that we will be in touch with him later.

Secretary Rogers is motivated to make this recommendation by a desire to be friendly and forthcoming to Kaunda. It is my conviction that the letter would serve exactly the opposite purpose. Obviously, the Zambians are being veryy discreet because they want to avoid a situation in which they get a formal turndown. State, however, is proposing immediately to escalate their Ambassador's "personal" query into a formal President-to-President turndown. I think that is a thoroughly bad idea, and will be seen by the Zambians as a deliberate rebuff.

A second problem concerns State's desire to have Kaunda as a State visitor next year. I think that is a bad idea also. Our bad experience with Kaunda last year, his performance in London, his emotional nature, and his passionate commitment to the "liberation" of the blacks in South Africa, makes me very nervous as to how he would behave if he were to come here as a State visitor during an election year. I see no reason to run such a risk.

I have an alternate suggestion. It is that we obtain the President's approval in principle to see Kaunda informally if Kaunda comes on a private visit (to get a degree of something) this year. Armed with such an approval, I think State should go back to the Zambian Ambassador as he came to us, orally, low key, and at a low level. We should tell him that although a State visit is not feasible at this time, President Nixon would be glad to meet with Kaunda should he come to the United States this year on a private visit.

A memo to the President seeking his agreement to such a meeting is attached.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you initial the memo to the President at Tab I.

S/S 7104760

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Subject: Message to President Kaunda of Zambia

Recommendation:

That you sign the enclosed letter to President Kaunda expressing the hope, without making any commitment, that it may be possible at a later date to invite him for an official visit in 1972.

Discussion:

Ambassador Mutemba of Zambia has returned from consultations in Lusaka with instructions to explore the possibility of President Kaunda's being invited to make an official visit to the United States.

The extension of such an invitation presents certain obvious difficulties. In view of your already heavy commitments for official visits in 1971 it would not seem practical to add another official visit this year. Moreover, it is much too early to make a definite commitment for 1972, particularly since that is an election year.

On the other hand, I believe it would be useful in our relations with Zambia if you were to give President Kaunda some encouragement about a possible official visit during 1972. A personal message from you to this effect would be well received by him. The subsequent extension of a formal invitation would of course be dependent on developments both here and in Zambia.

In spite of our close bilateral relations with Zambia since its independence in 1964, President Kaunda is one of the few really important African leaders who have never been invited to this country on an official visit. Yet he has been most responsive to our numerous requests to him to receive high-level American visitors to Lusaka. He is currently the President of the Organization for African Unity.

President Kaunda's image in this country was of course not helped by events at the time of his visit to the United Nations last October. There have been indications since then, however, that he has sincerely regretted his actions on that occasion.

As you will recall, he wrote you a warm letter shortly after his return to Zambia, to which you sent a reply equally friendly in tone. He has now sent you a second letter thanking you for "your continued constructive attitude on the question of Namibia" and expressing admiration for the United States Government's "rigorous and most scrupulous implementation" of United Nations sanctions on Rhodesia. When Assistant Secretary Newsom and Deputy Assistant Secretary Carter transited Livingstone last November, they were cordially received by a high-level official delegation designated by the Zambian Government. This action undoubtedly had President Kaunda's personal approval. More recently, President Kaunda gave Senators McGee, Moss and Fong an especially warm welcome in Lusaka. Finally, Ambassador Troxel reports that his relations with President Kaunda continue to be good.

I believe, therefore, it is in our interests to tell President Kaunda, without commitment, of the possibility of a visit in 1972.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Suggested Letter

Dear Mr. President:

I understand that Ambassador Mutemba has been in touch with the Department of State regarding a possible visit by you to the United States. Such a visit would give me great pleasure as I would welcome an opportunity to meet with you and to exchange views with you on matters of common interest.

My schedule of official visits for the current year, arranged several months ago, is already full and does not make it possible for me to propose an additional official visit this year. I am hopeful, however, that it will be possible to work out arrangements for an official visit during 1972.

It is difficult to make a commitment this far in advance, especially since our national elections will be held in 1972. As soon as I have a better idea of what my general schedule will be during the next year, I shall get in touch with you again.

Sincerely,

Richard Nixon

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Henry A. Kissinger

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia (Phonetic: Ka-OON-da), 9:30 a.m., Monday, October 19.

Kaunda is a high minded, idealistic man of 46. He is a leader of growing international stature, President this year of the Organization of African Unity, and the Chairman and host of the recent Non-Aligned Nations Conference in Lusaka. He was given the mission, by both groups, to approach us, among others, about the Southern African problem. He has seen Heath and Colombo, and Brandt, and will see Pompidou on the 21st.

He will argue the necessity for stronger measures in Southern Africa to reduce the danger of armed struggle and communist influence over the area. He may urge the end of all assistance, direct or indirect, to the white minority regimes. You can reiterate our support for self-determination, our opposition to violence, our belief in dialogue, and our adherence to the sanctions on Southern Rhodesia, and the arms embargo on South Africa and Portuguese Africa.

Kaunda wants Peking in the UN and better U.S.-Red China ties. He should be told of our efforts to improve relations through the Warsaw Talks, currently in abeyance at Peking's insistence, and that we are opposed to expelling the Republic of China -- a nation of 14 million -- as the price of Peking's UN entry.

Since Kaunda was asked by Secretary Rogers to support your Vietnam ceasefire proposal, you may wish to discuss it with him personally.

Further information on Kaunda or subjects he may raise are attached at Tab A in Secretary Rogers' memorandum to you.

I suggest you meet with Kaunda alone, and at the end of the meeting come to the Cabinet Room to greet Foreign Minister Mudenda, Ambassador Mwanga and Assistant Secretary Newsom. Marshall Wright of my staff will be available if you want a note taker.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

S/S 14021 October 17, 1970

CONFIDENTIAL

Subject: Your Meeting with President Kaunda of Zambia on October 19

As Chairman of the Conference on Non-Aligned Nations held in September in Zambia, Kaunda was given the mission of approaching the United States, among other countries, to request that any assistance directly or indirectly strengthening South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, or Portuguese rule in Africa be terminated. He may also comment on other issues, such as membership for Communist China in the UN and economic development of the less developed countries. While acknowledging Kaunda's role as an emissary of the Non-Aligned Conference, we agreed to arrange this meeting for him as President of Zambia.

Points to Stress:

--understanding of the desire of many countries to follow a policy of non-alignment.

--support for the principles of equality, self-determination, and majority rule in southern Africa, and our hope that these goals can be attained without violence.

--continuation of our embargo on arms for South Africa and the Portuguese African territories and our support of UN sanctions against Rhodesia.

--agreement that Communist Chinese participation in the international community is desirable but not at the cost of expelling the Republic of China from the UN.

Acting Secretary

ZAMBIA

Issues and Talking Points

Issues You Wish to Raise

Courtesy - October 24 marks the sixth anniversary of Zambian independence and of Kaunda's tenure as President. Earlier this year Kaunda also was elected President of the Organization of African Unity and served as host and Chairman of the Conference of Non-Aligned Nations. You may wish to:

--congratulate Kaunda on the sixth anniversary of Zambian independence and his own accession to the presidency.

--commend him for his position of leadership in Africa and among the non-aligned states.

Vietnam - Kaunda was one of the leaders asked by Secretary Rogers to support your recent cease-fire proposal. You may wish to:

--use the occasion to discuss the proposal with Kaunda personally.

Issues Kaunda May Raise

Southern Africa - Kaunda is likely to express concern about the psychological and material strength the white regimes derive from western arms, trade and investment. He may cite particularly western participation in the Cabora Bassa dam project in Mozambique and the prospective British sale to South Africa of arms for maritime defense. He may urge that, to reduce the danger of armed struggle and of communist influence over the liberation movements, there should be stronger action by the US and others in support of majority rule and self-determination in southern Africa. You may wish to:

--reiterate our deep feeling about human injustice in southern Africa and our dedication to the attainment of majority rule and self-determination there.

--stress that we share Kaunda's concern to avoid violence, as this can only make more difficult the task of achieving constructive change in southern Africa.

--say that we wholeheartedly approve the statesmanlike call of the Lusaka Manifesto for dialogue with the white regimes; isolation cannot create the conditions for progress.

--recall that the US is enforcing sanctions against Southern Rhodesia and seeking similar enforcement by others, maintaining its embargo on arms for South Africa and the Portuguese African territories, and supporting UN responsibility for Namibia (South West Africa).

--say that both publicly and privately we have made our views known to the British Government on its proposal to sell maritime defense items to the Republic of South Africa. We hope the British will take these views into consideration, along with Commonwealth reactions, before taking a final decision in the matter.

--point out if question arises that our decision to allow Union Carbide to import 150,000 tons of Rhodesian chrome is a one-time exception that does not indicate a weakening of the US position on sanctions. The shipment had been legally paid for before the U.S. implemented sanctions. We concluded it was foolish to let Rhodesia keep both the money and the chrome.

--point out that we are seeking to contribute to the progress of the majority-ruled states of southern Africa, the Zambia-Botswana road and ferry project being one important example of our efforts.

--make clear, if the question arises, that no American firms are presently participating in the construction of the Cabora Bassa dam.

--caution that, although many believe the US can impose its will on the white regimes of Southern Africa, our leverage is limited; a cut-off of trade and other relations would simply limit it further.

Chinese Representation - Kaunda is interested in promoting a rapproachment between the U.S. and the People's Republic of China (PRC), and in finding a way to bring Peking into the U.N. The Lusaka Non-Aligned Conference adopted resolutions calling for universality of UN membership and "restoration of the lawful rights" of the PRC but saying nothing about the Republic of China (ROC). If Kaunda suggests that the US drop its opposition to Peking's entry into the UN or support a resolution to admit the PRC that does not call for expulsion of the ROC, you may wish to:

-- reply that the U.S. is deeply interested in better relations with the PRC and has sought to develop them through the Warsaw talks. These talks have been in abeyance at the insistence of the Chinese side, but the U.S. is prepared to resume meetings at any time.

-- point out that the US agrees that PRC participation in the international community is desirable but remains opposed to expelling the Republic of China--a nation of 14 million and faithful member of the UN--as the price of Peking's entry.

--emphasize that the US cannot support any resolution that fails to take into account the legitimate interests of the Republic of China.

--inquire whether the Zambian Government intends to offer a resolution supporting PRC membership and whether it believes such a resolution would lead to expulsion of the Republic of China.

Non-Aligned Conference - Several of the resolutions passed by the Non-Aligned Conference were critical of the West but others supported principles with which we basically agree. Most notably, positive points were put forth in the resolutions on economic progress, disarmament, and the seabed. The latter resolution particularly was helpful in developing a set of principles for the deep seabed. If Kaunda raises the question of the Conference's recommendations besides those on southern Africa and Chinese representation, you may wish to:

-- express understanding of the desire of many countries to follow a policy of non-alignment.

-- say that it is to be hoped that those countries will apply to the policies of all nations the close scrutiny that they often have given the policies of the West.

-- note the ongoing concern of the US for the economic progress of the less developed countries, pointing, for example, to the proposed major revision of U.S. foreign assistance programs and our proposal for generalized trade preferences.

-- say that we appreciate the non-aligned countries' interest in disarmament and support for international bodies working on disarmament.

-- express appreciation for the constructive action of the Non-Aligned Conference in proposing a set of principles for the deep seabed, call to Zambia's attention our draft seabeds convention which provides substantial revenues particularly for assistance to developing countries, and request Zambia's support in seeking early agreement in this respect.
